

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

To provide a vehicle in which information regarding RFID (Radio Frequency Identification) is easily read and written by attaching a tag at a position where electromagnetic waves can be received. A vehicle includes a tag mounted thereon. The tag includes a recording medium in which identification information for identifying the vehicle is registered. The tag is attached inside a resin member. In particularly, the tag is attached inside a vehicle seat composed of a resin member. Furthermore, a tag can be attached as described above in a saddle-type vehicle.